85	18/10/2017 08:15	An Other	2	Arrived at work early. I was the only one in the office with the boss. I was wearing a new dress and I could see him looking at me through the glass wall. I felt uneasy. He came out and asked me make him a coffee saying he wanted to see me walking in my 'fuck me' dress. I was really shocked and didn't know what to say. Fortunately P arrived and he went back into his office. I told P what he'd said and she said he was like that with new members of staff and not to worry. She said 'he won't touch you' - Impact 2

86	19/10/2017 12:00	An Other	0	I went to lunch with S who had been at the firm for several years. I told her what had happened with the boss. She was quiet for a while and said it had happened a lot to her when she'd started work. There was gossip in the office too about a former member of staff who reported an assault but had been ignored. She'd left straight after but her husband had come in to see him and had threatened him with going to the police so as to make sure she got a good reference. - Impact 0

87	08/11/2017 09:00	An Other	2	If not had any problems again until today when I arrived first. I went straight to the staff room hoping I could keep out of the way till someone else arrived. The boss followed and asked me why I hadn't worn the dress he liked again. He started suggesting what I could wear with it. I froze and didn't answer. The bell rang in the reception and he walked off. I told S wanting to be sure I'd at least told someone in the office what's happening. She said I might be wise to leave. I said I needed a job. She said try to find

89	09/11/2017 12:00	An Other	0	The boss was seeing a client and I was in the reception working. My desk is directly opposite his office separated by a glass wall. He was seeing a woman who is getting a divorce. She was wearing the kind of clothes and shoes the boss was suggesting I should wear. They were flirting and laughing and he came out saying he was taking the client to lunch and to book a room at the local hotel ( not a restaurant) He told me to cancel the afternoon appointments he had as 'with a bit of luck I won't be getting back' - Impact 0

90	10/11/2017 09:30	An Other	2	I was called into the office by the boss to be told about his 'date' as he called it. He told me what they'd done in graphic detail and said that could me too. I said I had a boyfriend and was very happy with him. He said 'so what' and asked if my boyfriend had money and a nice house. S knocked on the door with a message having sensed something was going on. She said she was keeping notes to back me up if that was helpful. - Impact 2
